CATALOG DESCRIPTION

In their initial supervised clinical training placement, practicum students learn to provide direct counseling services while placed at the LCCCC center and in community-based mental health, addiction, clinic, or school settings to clients experiencing the full range of mental health, addiction, and dual diagnosis issues. Practicum students receive weekly supervision in this class from a CPSY faculty or other clinical staff in conjunction with weekly individual/triadic supervision from a designated qualified professional at their clinical site. Student placements are for 10-16 hours per week for a total of 100 hours accrued during the placement. The group class provides supervision, feedback, and support for practicum students while doing their initial clinical training. Students are expected to demonstrate appropriate professional skills and the personal characteristics and professional conduct necessary for effective and ethical professional mental health and addiction counseling.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This class is designed to provide weekly group supervision to PMHC-A practicum students while working with clients at their designated Lewis and Clark clinical sites. Students will receive supervision from this class in conjunction with weekly individual/triadic supervision from a designated qualified professional at their clinical site. The primary foci of the class include developing and demonstrating motivational interviewing and basic counseling skills, ethical decision making, and establishing effective therapeutic relationships. An additional focus of the class is on the recognition of the impact of race, culture, gender, sexual orientation and poverty as well as other societal and political influences that define the context of the therapeutic relationship. Other foci includes the practice and use of appropriate theory-based interventions, case conceptualization, case presentations, a beginning knowledge of client assessment, and the development of treatment planning. Another key focus will be the establishment of a self-care practice and development of professional boundaries will be central as students become aware of countertransference, vicarious trauma while growing professionally as counselors.

- Sometimes a student needs more than one semester to develop and demonstrate the requirements of a master's level counselor.

Course Clinical Requirements

Required hours:

The Practicum I supervision experience is based on the minimum requirement of at least three hours of group supervision-related hours per week held at the clinic as a three hour class (45 hours per semester)

Practicum II is based on at least one hour per week of individual or triadic supervision (15 hours per semester) and a minimum of at least two hours per week of group supervision-related hours (30 hours per semester).

Students must have a minimum of forty hours of direct client contact derived from their Practicum I & II experiences at the LCCC and their community-based practicum site and the overall practicum experience (including clinic group and triadic supervision) must be at least one hundred hours over the length of the two semesters

Students may obtain more direct client hours than the minimum, but are limited to no more than sixteen hours at their Practicum II externship site a week.

This includes on site supervision, on site group supervision and required paperwork.

Students must receive minimal 1s and no 0s on the Professional Qualities Evaluation and must perform at a satisfactory level on the Practicum Evaluation Form

Activities that can be counted toward the 100 hours may include such professional activities as observation/feedback, consultation, coordination, supervision, documentation, case conceptualization, and research/study/learning related to counseling or client issues.

In the course of completing these activities, the student will be expected to demonstrate a wide variety of counseling techniques and communication skills.

At the end of the semester, the student must document the amount of time they were engaged in these activities, and submit to your instructor.

Ethical Guidelines

Students are expected to follow the ethical guidelines put forth by the American Counseling Association and to seek supervision when there is a lack of clarity concerning a clinical issue or an ethical dilemma to be resolved.

Failure to follow ethical guidelines and/or non-disclosure of ethical problems and the seeking of appropriate supervision may result in dismissal from the practicum and/or counseling program.

It is expected that students have read and will follow the guidelines put forth in the internship manual for the Lewis and Clark Graduate School Counseling Psychology

Program.

Students are expected to share their process and case information as accurately and completely as possible in order to facilitate a meaningful and successful supervision opportunity.

To follow ethical guidelines in relation to clients and to respect the work of our peers it is of fundamental importance that the contents of group discussion be regarded as confidential.

Confidentiality and Informed Consent

Students will make their clients aware they are student interns from Lewis and Clark College under supervision.

Clients should know that information about the counseling experience will be brought to a group supervision class for the purpose of training practicum students and that the students are bound by professional confidentiality ethics and law to keep their identity and information confidential.

Informed consent forms will be used with all clients that delineate what information about them will be used (and how it will be protected), for what purpose and in what setting.

Clients under the age of 14 must have the forms signed by a parent or legal guardian. This informed consent is required in addition to any forms a supervision site requires for release of confidential information.

Student interns will be vigilant in keeping records and tapes secure during transportation for the purpose of keeping client information confidential.

Tapes will be erased or destroyed after a practicum student's final grade has been posted.

Mandated Reporting

Students will make mandated reports in accordance with Oregon and Washington Statutes. Any questions about what constitutes a report or how to make a report should be immediately discussed with site supervisor (or phone class professor if a licensed professional is not available at the site) and their campus supervisor must be informed of the issue in a timely and professional manner. Students will utilize policies and forms related to making those mandated reports as provided at their internship sites.

Other important information

Laptops and Cell Phones

Due the experiential nature of the class, laptops may be used only when designated by the instructor. Cell phones must be silenced and text messaging is not allowed during class time. If there is an emergency you may exit the class to use your cell. Laptops and cell phones may of course be used on breaks. Please come prepared to take hand written notes. If a disability requires the use of a laptop please let the instructor know at the beginning of the semester.

Non-Discrimination Policy/Special Assistance

Lewis & Clark College adheres to a nondiscriminatory policy with respect to employment, enrollment, and program. The College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, national origin, age, handicap or disability, sexual orientation, or marital status and has a firm commitment to promote the letter and spirit of all equal opportunity and civil rights laws.

Participation in the Learning Community

Students are required to attend and actively participate in all scheduled class meetings. This includes being on time, being prepared, following through on group projects, and otherwise engaging with colleagues as fellow professionals. Becoming a counselor/therapist involves looking closely at ourselves, our values, beliefs, and biases. This can be a very personal, and sometimes emotional, process. Treating colleagues with respect, listening deeply to their experiences, and being open to diverse world views encourages a collaborative milieu of care in which we can all challenge ourselves and each other to critically examine and develop our skills and perspectives. In order to prepare for each class, students should carefully read and study all assigned materials to be ready to discuss, debate, and apply the content of readings. Class discussion and interaction with colleagues are fundamental to the process of learning to be a therapist and all sessions include necessary information. Therefore, if you must miss a class, fellow students and the instructor may ask you to contribute to learning community in another way. If you must be absent or late, please email or call the instructor at least several hours prior to class.

CPSY Departmental Attendance Policy

Class attendance is expected and required. Any missed class time will be made up by completing extra assignments designed by the instructor. Missing more than ten percent of class time may result in failure to complete the class. This would be 4.5 hours of a 45 hour class (3 credits), 3.0 hours for a 30 hour class (2 credits) or 1.5 hours for a 15 hour class (1 credit.) In case of extreme hardship and also at the discretion of the instructor, a grade of incomplete may be given for an assignment or the entire course. In such cases, the work to be submitted in order to remove the incomplete must be documented appropriately and stated deadlines met. Students are expected to be on time to class and tardiness may be seen as an absence that requires make-up work.

If you miss a class, you will be asked to complete a make up assignment that will be provided by the instructor.

Special Assistance

The Student Support Services Office, located in the Templeton Student Center, is a resource for students with disabilities. A variety of services are available through this office according to the particular needs of each student. Students interested in such services may contact Student Support Services at 503-768-7191. This contact is the necessary first step for receiving appropriate accommodations and support services. Please inform me if you need accommodations in class.

CPSY Department Policy for Practicum and Internship Extenders

This policy applies to all students in practicum and internship. Students in practica and internships in schools will follow the regular school year for their districts as indicated by their contracts, however they will still need to follow the policy of being continuously enrolled in a supervision course.

For students who need to extend their practicum or internship past the end of a semester, they have the following options:

- For extensions up to four weeks past the end of a final semester (but no more than FOUR WEEKS), students must register for a zero credit practicum or internship course in order to continue to count hours towards their practicum or internship. Students must join an existing campus-based practicum or internship section for weekly supervision until they complete their practicum or internship hours.
- For extensions of more than four weeks, students must register for, attend, and participate in a full semester of practicum or internship (3 semester hours for PMHC & PMHC-A, 4 semester hours for MCFT).
- All students must obtain permission from the clinical coordinator before any extension is granted. Registration must be completed prior to the end of the semester for which the extension will be required.
- The clinical coordinator will assign campus practicum or internship sections to all extending students. Students must not assume that they will continue in the same practicum or internship section.
