EDLL 741A & CTSP 537 Qualitative Methods

Summer 2021 Course Syllabus¹

June 29th to July 16th, 1:00 pm to 3:30 pm

Credits: 2 semester hours

INSTRUCTOR OF RECORD

Brenda Sifuentez, Ph.D

Assistant Professor

Email: bsifuentez@lclark.edu

Student Hours: by appointment only either via email or at <https://calendly.com/bsifuentez>

CATALOG DESCRIPTION

Overview and application of qualitative research methods. Through course readings, discussion, and practical application, candidates explore: (1) different approaches in qualitative research and epistemologies and common theoretical perspectives that undergird qualitative inquiry, and (2) various methods and techniques for gathering, interpreting, and making meaning of in-depth and rich information about things as they occur in their natural settings. Candidates gain the skills necessary to review and critique qualitative research and to design and undertake their own qualitative research.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Identify the range of problems addressed by qualitative research.
- Understand the epistemology and methodology of interpretive research.
- Become increasingly aware of how interpretive research might be used to explore and explain the lived experiences of people subject to various positions of relative privilege and oppression in society and education.

EXPECTATIONS

Expectations-Participation & Contribution

Everyone is expected to participate meaningfully throughout the course. Students must be able to illuminate the connections between the material under consideration and other bodies of knowledge. As graduate students it is expected that you are able to make connections between the readings, lectures, and activities of other classes in relationship to this course.

Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course site and their Lewis & Clark email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials daily.

Zoom Etiquette: Zoom will be our virtual classroom. It is important that you log into classroom zoom on time. However, we know that life happens, if you are going to be late please try to email Dr. Sifuentez beforehand if possible. The calendar invites will have the zoom link that you will need to access. As a courtesy to others please keep your audio on mute until you want to speak. While I would enjoy seeing your face I know it is not possible to constantly have your camera on so please turn off your camera at your discretion. However, your camera being off

Lewis & Clark College
Graduate School of Education & Counseling

does not excuse you from participating in class. No student may record the class in any fashion (i.e. audio, video, or otherwise) unless they have written permission from the instructor.

REMINDER: This is an intensive reading and writing course. Writing is a critical component to graduate education and it is expected that with each written assignment in this course continuously improves.

Attendance: A missed class will compromise your grade. In an intensive course each hour constitutes a large portion of the course. Students with work or clinical responsibilities are expected to make arrangements with Dr. Sifuentez beforehand. If arrangements are not made any missed class will result in point deduction.

EXPECTATIONS-CORE LEARNING ACTIVITIES

Researcher Positionality Statement (25 points) Throughout the course of this class and beyond you will explore your own positionality as an researcher. This process encompasses exploring your own histories, biases, identities, and desires for change. Your researcher positionality statements will serve as a guide for you to understand how you come to the research and why. As you develop your research skills and knowledge it is expected that your positionality will shift.

Due: The final research positionality statement will be due Thursday July 1st at 11:59 pm

Three Research Approach Application Papers (20 points each/60 points) This assignment is designed to provide you an opportunity to reflect upon and demonstrate your understanding of each of qualitative research approaches covered and how you might use each specific approach to study your research topic.

In no more than 1-2 pages, briefly conceptualize and propose a study by addressing all of the following points in each of your papers:

- Problem statement including relevant literature (at least 2 outside sources) and the target audience for your study
- Purpose statement for your study (including a definition of central concept)
- Central research question (and any relevant sub-questions)
- Methodology (sample strategy, data collection, and potential data analysis)
- Writing strategy

Each paper is worth 20 points. Some class time may be devoted to group discussions of your papers and emerging ideas about your topic. Due Dates: It is your choice when you submit the research approach papers but all three papers must be submitted by July 19 at 11:59pm via Google Classroom. I do suggest turning one in before the final deadline so you can see how I grade these assignments and you are able to incorporate feedback in future papers.

Learning Community: Collaborative learning is an important component of this course, students will be required to participate in a learning team. Days have been set aside for learning teams to meet. On Google Classroom, you will have detailed information as to what each session should cover. Ideally, students will find that their learning teams provide a forum for sharing ideas, providing alternative interpretations, and providing feedback on assignments and research ideas.

Expectations-Writing

Formal writing activities should generally follow the most recent American Psychological Association (APA) style guide for written work. Informal writing activities (in-class writing) can be written in a style of the students' discretion. If you do not own an APA style guide please purchase one or use the Purdue Online Writing Lab website https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/apa_style/apa_style_introduction.html

Lewis & Clark College
Graduate School of Education & Counseling

There are some basic competencies that I expect from you. These are:

- o Ability to proof read your discussion posts and papers before submitting
- o Ability to cite references when making general and/or specific statements that are not entirely your own
- o Ability to communicate effectively when you do not understand the instruction or expectations about assignments

Recommended Textbook for Writing:

American Psychological Association. (2010). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.). Washington, DC: APA.

ASSESSMENT & EVALUATION

All core learning activities must be completed in order to receive a passing grade in this course.

An overall summative assessment will be made of students' development across the course in order to determine a final grade. This overall summative assessment will take into account the assignments and evidence of how well students incorporated formative feedback.

Assignments	Points
Three Research Approach Application Papers	60
Researcher Positionality Statement	25
Participation	15
Total Points	100

Incomplete Policy: Incomplete grades are highly discouraged. Incomplete grades will only be granted because of extenuating circumstances or major emergencies.

Late Assignment Policy: Given the condense course schedule late work will not be accepted. There will be NO exceptions. Yes this means YOU. If I do not have your assignment and you have not contacted me about late submission, you will receive a zero on that assignment. If you fail to notify me of any problems associated with your work (grading error, missing graded assignment) within one class meeting after I have returned graded materials, then I will not be able to negotiate an alternate arrangement with you. Therefore, stay on top of things, monitor your work, and make sure that you talk to me immediately if there are problems.

Grading Scale (Anything below 70 is considered failing)

A: 93- 100	B-: 80-82
A-: 90-92	C+: 78-79
B+: 88-89	C: 73-77
B: 83-87	C-: 70-72

ACCOMMODATIONS & L&C GRADUATE SCHOOL ESSTENIAL POLICIES

Disability Services Statement: If you require academic accommodations please contact the Student Support Services Office in Albany Quadrangle (503-76-7192 or access@lclark.edu). Once you complete the intake process and the Accommodations Agreement, you may Request to

Lewis & Clark College

This course adheres to the general policies outlined in the catalog and student handbook of the Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling. This includes full adherence to the following policies:

- Nondiscrimination: go.lclark.edu/gsec-nondiscrimination;
- Standards for professional student conduct and academic integrity: go.lclark.edu/gsec-conduct;
- Sexual misconduct: go.lclark.edu/titleIX.

If you have any questions regarding these policies, please speak to your professor for clarification.

COMMUNICATIONS with PROFESSOR

Email will be the primary mode for out-of-class communication. Generally students can expect a response within 48 hours, except on weekends.

INDIGENOUS LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Lewis & Clark College purposefully reflects on the history of the land it occupies. Prior to the newcomers arriving in this area, the indigenous land of what would later be called Multnomah County was home to many tribal people. We honor the indigenous people on whose traditional and ancestral homelands we stand: the Multnomah, Kathlamet, Clackamas, Tumwater, and Watalala bands of the Chinook; the Tualatin Kalapuya; and many other indigenous nations of the Columbia River.

LEARNING IN THE COVID-19 ERA

Given that we do not know what could happen to us or the ones we take care of, it is my wish that you understand that your health and the health of those you care for is more important than this class. Regardless of the strict expectations outlined above, I do care about you as individuals. This means that I will remain flexible to working with you to ensure that you reach your educational goals. Therefore, I ask that you stay in communication with me in order to create a suitable plan of action.
