CATALOG DESCRIPTION

COURSE DESCRIPTION Adult Development & Family Therapy covers case conceptualization of cognitive, behavioral, affective & social/cultural/familial areas; how trauma and oppression affect adult development, psychopathology and treatment approaches; countertransference and personal bias that might impede professional practice with adults; the application of art therapy counseling approaches with adults and families; this includes developing approaches and interventions that are appropriate in various settings.

CAAHEP STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

SLO-B	Distinguishing among the therapeutic benefits of a variety of art processes and media, strategies and interventions, and their applicability to the treatment process for individuals, groups, and families.
SLO-C	Recognize that Art Therapy, from a multicultural perspective, takes into consideration the specific values, beliefs, and actions influenced by a client's race, ethnicity, nationality, gender, religion, socioeconomic status, political views, sexual orientation, geographic region, physical capacity or disability, and historical or current experiences within the dominant culture.
SLO- E	Develop culturally appropriate, collaborative, and productive therapeutic relationships with clients.
SLO-G	Recognize and respond appropriately to ethical and legal dilemmas using ethical decision-making models, supervision, and professional and legal consultation when necessary.
SLO-H	Recognize clients' use of imagery, creativity, symbolism, and metaphor as a valuable means for communicating challenges and strengths and support clients' use of art-making for promoting growth and well-being.
SLO-J	Apply principles of human development, artistic and creative development, human sexuality, gender identity development, family life cycle, and psychopathology, to the assessment and treatment of clients.
SLO-K	Understand professional role and responsibility to engage in advocacy endeavors as they relate to involvement in professional organizations and advancement of the profession.
SLO-L	Continuously deepen self-understanding through personal growth experiences, reflective practice, and personal art-making to strengthen a personal connection to the creative process, assist in self-awareness, promote well-being, and guide professional practice.
SLO-N	Recognize the impact of oppression, prejudice, discrimination, and privilege on access to mental health care, and develop responsive practices that include collaboration, empowerment, advocacy, and social justice action.

NONDISCRIMINATION

Lewis & Clark College adheres to a nondiscriminatory policy with respect to employment, enrollment, and program. Lewis & Clark does not discriminate on the basis of actual or perceived race, color, sex, religion, age, marital status, national origin, the presence of any physical or sensory disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression and has a firm commitment to promote the letter and spirit of all equal opportunity and civil rights laws, including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and their implementing regulations.

This course adheres to the general policies outlined in the catalog and student handbook of the Lewis & Clark Graduate School of Education and Counseling. This includes full adherence to the following policies:

Nondiscrimination: go.lclark.edu/gsec-nondiscrimination;

Standards for professional student conduct and academic integrity: go.lclark.edu/gsec-conduct;

Sexual misconduct: go.lclark.edu/titleIX.

DISABILITY SERVICES STATEMENT

If you have a disability that may impact your academic performance, you may request accommodations by submitting documentation to the Office of Student Accessibility in the Albany Quadrangle (503-768-7192). After you have submitted documentation and filled out paperwork there for the current semester requesting accommodations, staff in that office will notify me of the accommodations for which you are eligible.

TEACHING METHODS

A variety of teaching methods will be used during this course in order to achieve the above objectives. Among those methods will be assigned readings, class discussions, experiential activities, and lectures. Students will watch videos clips, engage in group learning tasks, and participate in role-play demonstrations.

CPSY DEPARTMENTAL ATTENDANCE POLICY

Class attendance is expected and required. Any missed class time will be made up by completing extra assignments designed by the instructor. Missing more than ten percent of class time may result in failure to complete the class. This would be 4.5 hours of a 45 hour class (3 credits), 3.0 hours for a 30 hour class (2 credits) or 1.5 hours for a 15 hour class (1 credit.) In case of extreme hardship and also at the discretion of the instructor, a grade of incomplete may be given for an assignment or the entire course. In such cases, the work to be submitted in order to remove the incomplete must be documented appropriately and stated deadlines met. Students are expected to be on time to class and tardiness may be seen as an absence that requires make-up work.

DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Each student should decide for him/herself what information to disclose. Students are advised to be prudent when making self-disclosures. The program cannot guarantee confidentiality of student disclosures given the group environment, although personal comments should be considered private and confidential – and remain only in the classroom – unless an exception to confidentiality applies.

CELL PHONES

Cell phones must be silenced and text messaging is not allowed during class time. If there is an emergency you may exit the class to use your cell.

CLASS PREPARATION

You must complete all assigned readings and watch any assigned video prior to attending class. This will allow us to focus on application of readings in class. Students are expected to be prepared to discuss the ideas and concepts discussed in the readings. You are responsible for all of the assigned readings, whether or not they are discussed in class. Please note that there are more readings assigned for some topics than for others.

COURSE STRUCTURE

Discussion of assigned reading (30 min, Lecture)/Small group discussion (10-20 min);
Triptych, Left Page/Activity: Create an art piece in response to lecture (30 min);
Break (10 min) 2nd assigned reading (30 min, Lecture)/ Small group discussion (10-20 min);
Triptych, Right Page/Activity: Create an art piece in response to lecture (30 min);
Large group presentation of your insights and understanding of the continuum.

ASSIGNMENTS AND COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Because of the skill development nature of this course, it is required that students complete ALL assignments to pass this class. All assignments must be turned in at the beginning of class (before class starts) on the day they are due. Five points will be deducted for each day an assignment is late.

EVALUATION AND GRADING

A = 94-100%	B = 83-87%	C = 73-77%
A- = 90-93%	B- = 80-82%	C- = 70-72%
B+ = 88-89%	C+ = 78-79%

ASSIGNMENTS AND EVALUATION

1. Attendance and participation in all classes (10 points)

Class participation	Possible points
Attending all classes and being on time. Giving attention to the instructor and/or other students when they are making a presentation.	4
Demonstrating ability to recognize and use subtle non-verbal communication cues to assess your impact on your peers and participate in class. Demonstrating ability to be open about discussing the impact of your comments on your peers.	1
Coming to class prepared (having read the assignment for the day) Engaging in group discussions with attention and energy. Asking questions of the instructor and/or other students regarding the material examined in that class.	2
Contributing to in-class discussion based on the topics of discusses and the readings assigned. Contributions may include how you feel about the material but merely articulating your feelings is not sufficient. You are expected to put those feelings in context of your thoughts and analysis of the material.	1
Providing examples to support or challenge the issues talked about in class. Making comments or giving observations about topics in the course, especially those that tie in the classroom material to "real world" problems, or try to integrate the content of the course.	1
Dealing with other students and/or the instructor in a respectful fashion. Listening actively. Students will be asked questions related to the course's readings randomly in class by other students and by the instructor. Your participation in small group discussions is also required.	1
Total	10

2. Reading reflection & summary (20 points)

Each week the student is expected to write a summary of the readings and post to Moodle prior to each class.

The first part of the summary should be written in APA format and include:

- Article/Text: Citation of the journal article
- Paragraph 1-2
- Introduce the topic of the article by summarizing the issue or problem discussed in the article.
- If applicable to the reading, how the research was conducted?
Data/Results
- Conclusions/Applications

The second part of the summary is a reflection and should include (not APA):

- 1 paragraph
- A personal response to the article (overall thoughts)
- Consider how the reading applies to the course?
- Develop 3 questions that you want to explore further that can contribute to in-class discussions.

Reflective papers	Possible points
Examine theoretical and biopsychosocial roots of developmental crises, trauma, disabilities, addictions, and exceptionality on development across the lifespan	3
Justify methods of advancing wellness and actualization of potential, coping capacity, creativity, and optimal development throughout life	3
Display sensitivity to the prevalence of mental illness and impact on individuals and society	3
Papers turned in on time, following instructions	10 (1 pt. per week)
Written responses are free of grammatical, spelling or punctuation errors.	1
Total	20

3. Art response collection (20 points)

Throughout this course you will be working on assembling and creating a triptych book (digital, sculptural, 2D, etc.) in response to the content of the readings, discussions and topics explored in this semester.

In week 1 you will create the cover, each week you will be provided in class with time to create response art as it applies to the topic.

The structure of the course will allow you to reflect on one idea on the left side, a different idea on the right side and your chosen theoretical approach or key learning to be represented in the center of the page.

Your artwork should be integrated into your final paper to illustrate your understanding of the concepts in this course.

In week 12 you will make the back cover and in weeks 13 & 14 you will present the book and your key learning(s) to the class.

	ART RESPONSE COLLECTION	Possible points
h.K.2	Examine theoretical and biopsychosocial roots of developmental crises, trauma, disabilities, addictions, and exceptionality on development across the lifespan	2
h.A.1	Justify methods of advancing wellness and actualization of potential, coping capacity, creativity, and optimal development throughout life	2
j.A.3	Display sensitivity to the prevalence of mental illness and impact on individuals and society	2
d.A.1	Demonstrate belief in the value of using artmaking as a method for exploring personal symbolic language	2
	Work conveys investment of time, critical thought, and reflexivity	2
	Total	10

4. Visual Arts Socio-education Project (20 points)

Either working in small groups (max 3), dyads or as an individual, students will do the following:

- A) Identify a social issue that affects one or more populations of adults/families (e.g., homelessness, war trauma, racism, sexism, classism, cisgenderism, homophobia, heteronormativity, migration, abilities issues) that you would like to know more about.
- B) Paper (three to four pages in APA format): Each student will write a brief literature review covering mental health and/or counseling issues related to your topic. Include a minimum of five references. (10 points)
- C) Presentation (10-15 min max per presentation): Chose a visual arts-based approach to socio-education that can be used to raise critical consciousness among your colleagues, members of the community and/or future clients with whom you may work. You may choose photography (or photo voice), a movie clip, or other visual representation to draw attention to the issue you are exploring. This representation will serve as catalyst for asking critical questions to raise social awareness. The presentation should engage students through active dialogue during the presentation.

For example, your group might use a clip of The Little Mermaid trading her voice for legs. After showing the clip, you would ask those watching to answer questions such as “What did you notice about gender in this clip?”, “Why do you think Ursula is portrayed as a large woman of color?” “What do you notice about the relationship between Ariel and the prince?”

As participants answer, follow up with more critical questions using Paulo Freire’s method of dialogue, reflection and action. If you use photo voice, each person in your group might take photos that depict aspects of the issue you are concerned with. Your group would then come up with a number of consciousness raising questions to ask participants when you present your photos. Again, as participants answer, follow-up with critical questions. (10 points)

ex. of past topics:

Loneliness and technology

Purity culture (workbook)

Polyphobia & prejudice against ethical non monogamy

Global warming and mental health

ADHD and ablism

Art Therapy & healing with community survivors of domestic violence

5. Critical Genogram (15 points)

Complete a three-generation critical genogram on the student’s family of origin. The genogram should include names, birth dates, illnesses and so forth for respective family members. Additionally, the genogram should chart family characteristics including, but not limited to, substance abuse, mental illness, physical illness, religious/spiritual beliefs, culture and types of employment (e.g., business, teaching). This exercise offers you the opportunity to practice completing a genogram while gaining awareness of your own family dynamics within socio-cultural context. Please follow the guidelines in Kosutic, Garcia, et al.’s article. Symbols and a description of how to complete a genogram will be offered in class. This project is only seen by Dr. Satterberg.

6. Final paper & Presentation (15 points)

Using your reading summaries and your personal responses, please write a paper (2000-2500 words) that summarizes:

- What you have learned?
- How has the learning community of your cohort impacted your experience of the class?
- What are the approaches you lean toward and why?
- What remains unknown related to topics explored in the course?

Integrate the artwork (as figures) you created in the course into the paper and pull summaries from work written throughout the course to illustrate your comprehensive understanding of the course material.

Presentation:

- Present aspects of your paper along with images of your art book to the class (roughly 10 min at most).

Final Paper	Possible points
Examine theoretical and biopsychosocial roots of developmental crises, trauma, disabilities, addictions, and exceptionality on development across the lifespan	2
Justify methods of advancing wellness and actualization of potential, coping capacity, creativity, and optimal development throughout life	2
Display sensitivity to the prevalence of mental illness and impact on individuals and society	2

Plan strategies for identifying the impact of oppression and privilege on individuals and groups and eliminating barriers, prejudices, intentional and unintentional oppression, and discrimination	2
Apply cultural and social diversity theories and competency models to an understanding of identity development, empowerment, collaboration, advocacy, and social justice	2
Paper is articulate, well organized, written to APA guidelines. Writing is free of grammatical, spelling or punctuation errors.	2.5
Presentation explores the basis of your paper with visuals from your art book	2.5
