General Description

The practicum program is designed to provide a beginning clinical counseling experience for Counseling Psychology graduate students. Students are assigned to a community mental health agency or school setting where they acquire training and knowledge working directly with clients from the community. During this part of their training they are closely supervised by licensed clinicians who are employed as Lewis & Clark adjunct faculty. Practicum students have been trained in basic counseling micro skills and are developing a basic understanding of client issues. Students have taken classes in: Introduction to Professional Counseling, Law and Ethics as well as Counseling Theories. It is highly recommended that students take Group Counseling concurrent with their practicum class.

The following requirements were established by Community Counseling Program faculty and standards set forth by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs. Students are at their practicum site for around 8-10 hours a week.

Evaluation

The attached criteria for evaluation serve as competency guidelines and outcome assessments for the development of clinical skills and professional counselor qualities. These competencies reflect the mission and training philosophy of the Lewis and Clark Community Counseling Program and are aligned with competencies established by the Council for Accreditation in Counseling and Related Educational Programs for Community Counseling Programs. In this evaluation process, it is important to keep in mind that the Lewis and Clark Community Counseling Program frames all therapeutic work as connected to the broader project of recognizing and addressing issues of social justice. This means that factors such as the following are acknowledged as essential in considering how the forces of power and oppression impact the well-being of each individual and the relationships in their lives: physical ability, culture, race/ethnicity, social and political forces, socioeconomic status, exile/migration, religious and spiritual beliefs, language, education, gender and sexual orientation and age.

Students will be evaluated using these competency guidelines and outcome assessments mid way through their practicum as well as at the completion. Students are advised to use these evaluations for learning competencies guidelines through out their training. The evaluations are used to generate a dialogue between student and supervisor about the student's training and professional growth. If students are not making adequate progress in their practicum work the adjunct faculty will first discuss this with the student and if needed, notify the student's advisor as well as the practicum coordinator to devise a plan for student support. (See attached evaluations.)

Course Grading and Evaluation

Class is graded as credit/no credit. Students will be introduced to evaluation criteria at the beginning of practicum with evaluations completed mid term and at the finish of class. Evaluations include the student's openness to supervision, counseling competence, self awareness and ethical considerations. Inability to perform at the expected level of competency requires a meeting with class instructor and practicum coordinator. The outcome of this meeting might result in one or more of the following: additional requirements, retaking the class or meeting with a committee of faculty members to determine other outcomes. Upon the completing of the class each student will write a brief reflection paper with a description of strengths and further areas of desired growth. Part of this final evaluation will include a formal readiness to move forward determination. Failure to complete the required number of direct hours may result in a deferred grade.

Ethical Standards of Behavior

All students will follow the Ethical Guidelines as set forth by the American Counselors Association. Students are expected to abide by all college rules as well as follow the statutes of both Oregon and Washington pertaining to professional counseling practice. Students, under supervision, will be expected to make mandated reports. Students will behave in a manner that reflects the integrity of the role of a professional of counselor. Students who violate the laws of the state or ethical practices will be removed from a site. A committee of faculty members, including the student's advisor, will be formed to address the student's situation and recommend possible outcomes.

Course Objectives

The following course objectives are informed by the guidelines and objectives set forth by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs for a practicum class.

Students will participate in their evaluation process mid term and final as well as the writing of a short reflection paper for their final evaluation that reflects on their growth and future focus of professional counselor development.

Taping

Students will be provided the opportunity for audio/video taping and/or live supervision. It is required that at least one taped recording of the student working with a client be made during the semester. An alternative to this is a transcribed audio tape as well as live supervision observed by the adjunct faculty.

Course Attendance

Absence requires notification to instructor (2 weeks in advance if known especially if missing a scheduled client session.) Missing more than 4 hours requires additional assignments. Missing more than 8 hours is a possible failure to complete practicum. This will be determined by the instructor in consultation with Lewis and Clark practicum coordinator. Unexcused absences will result in a loss of supervision credit and counseling hours for that week. Unexcused absences will require a letter of explanation submitted to the instructor.

Final Paperwork:

To complete the class students must submit copies of their evaluations, a signed Readiness to Move Forward document which includes written objectives for future work as well as the practicum evaluation form to Marsha White in the office of Practicum/Internship Administration.
